

"I can honestly say the Beat Museum on Wheels presentation is one of the best performances we have ever had at Saint Mary's School. The guys were great and very cooperative. I can recommend them without hesitation."

— Randall Lathan, English Dept.
Saint Mary's School, Raleigh, NC

"Today's presentation in Ragland Auditorium turned a new generation of Saint Mary's students on to the writings and experiences of the original Beats — Jack Kerouac, Allen Ginsberg and William S. Burroughs... The SMS students left the presentation filled with the spirit of the Beats: 'Know your truth. Speak your truth. Live your truth.'"

— Saint Mary's School Newspaper
Raleigh, North Carolina

"The Beat Museum on Wheels was definitely the highlight of the season for the Riverbank Poetry Project. We were especially impressed by the professionalism of the production. I had expected a very casual event, with a couple of people sitting on stools and reading poetry. What we received was a sophisticated presentation including video news clips, recorded music, live music and an interchange among the performers leading to a better understanding of the Beat Generation."

— Paul Thomas, Director
The Fitton Center, Hamilton, OH

"Your show gave the audience what it needed—an accessible, high energy celebration of their fiction & poetry that confirmed what the big deal was all about—and you made it all fun! Thanks for visiting and we hope to see you another time."

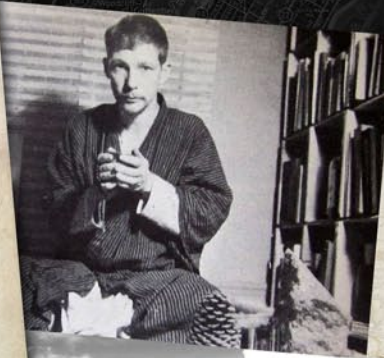

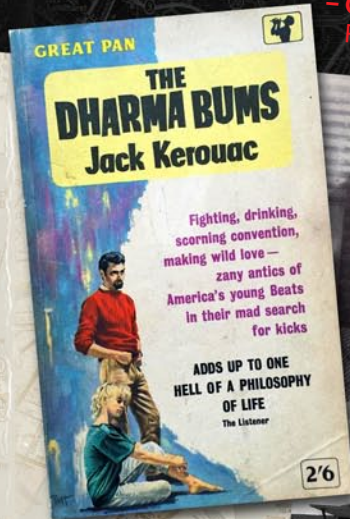

— Ken Cooper, Assistant Professor
SUNY Geneseo, NY

THE BEAT MUSEUM CELEBRATES
ITS 20th ANNIVERSARY IN 2023

"The Beat Museum on Wheels mixes it up with the best, providing a historical background of 20th Century 'counter culture' with colorful, personal character studies personified by talented performers and fascinating support material for 'Beat Buffs' of all ages. The Beat Museum is truly a living, talking, singing, free-wheeling bus on the highway of Modern Americana."

— Geoff Rawling, President
Rockaway, NY Artists Alliance
